Mr. Maatugh Salem.

Dear Maatugh,

I have now been through your dissertation. As I have already indicated the English requires to be corrected and refined. Some of the writing - the style of presentation - could be better. For instance, the early pages on gaming are a bit of a bore due to the catalogue-like format you have adopted. It is a little difficult to deal with minor points at this distance but review it carefully and put it into production. Try to get it to me by mid-April. I can then give the external examiner plenty of time to read it, although he will probably do so just before he arrives here in June.

Best wishes for the New Year.

Yours sincerely,

ROBERT G. SMART
